Tiny Spoiled The 'Spoilers'

America is a "two-faced" country.

One face is "America, the beautiful." And it truly is a beautiful country "from sea to shining sea." Nature made this America.

The other face is "America, the Ugly." Go to some industrial valley with its sickly yellow smoke and black smoke, its acid smog shutting off the morning sun and its waste turning a clear mountain stream into an acid black industrial sewer. It truly is an ugliness that shames us all. Man made this America.

But Americans are beginning to realize that our country does not have to be ugly. Prosperous industry does not have to be dirty and landscape fouling. The "spoiler" — be he an individual who throws a beer can on a beach or an industry that pollutes the air for miles around — robs us all.

As a newspaper we are proud of the role newspapermen have played in making us all conscious of the wisdom of conservation. To give recognition to what newspapermen are doing in this field, the Scripps-Howard Foundation annually gives the Edward J. Meeman Conservation Awards. The awards bear the name of Scripps-Howard conservation leader both as a newspaperman and as a citizen who fervently believes in saving our heritage of natural beauty.

This year awards totaling $6000 go to 18 newspapermen. To show how broad newspaper interest is, the winners range from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from large dailies to small weeklies. We know you will want to join us in congratulating the award winners and in thanking them for all of us. — Knoxville (Tenn.) News-Sentinel

Waste

Waste is a characteristic of the contemporary world. It takes many forms. One of the most persistent is the mail received by newspapers from public relations men, or women. Examples: in one batch of mail came six envelopes with the same address, from the same public relations office with each containing exactly the same thing. Three other envelopes, from another office exactly the same handwriting, contents, and lack of interest. This is not unusual. It is a waste of time by the sender, a waste of money for postage, and a waste of the recipient's time and energy in opening them and tossing them in the wastebasket. The reason for this waste we have not discovered, unless it is that the sender gets paid according to the bulk of mail sent out.

More often than not such mail is improperly addressed, and arrives on the desk of the staff member least interested in it, even if addressed to him by name, and even if, as at times it is, it is marked "personal." Much of such mail is obviously an attempt to obtain free advertising. Some of it is seeking personal publicity. And much of it is sent to staff members who have been dead for many years, though the sender has more than once been informed of its fact. Some of this mail, in letters to the editor for publication, consists of unsigned letters—a type-written signature is not a legal and usable signature. Some are just propaganda tracts mailed out like broadsides — and not usable. Some are vicious and unprintable. Pamphleteering has become a hobby with many Americans, individuals and organizations; those of any interest and value are the exception. — Lynchburg (Va.) News

Elevator for Blanchard Springs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-Senate conference committee approved Tuesday $114,000 for installation of elevator service in Blanchard Springs Caverns in Arkansas.

Another $200,000 was approved for development of the caverns, near Mountain View as a recreation area.

The amounts were in a compromise version of the Interior Department appropriations bill. An elevator shaft has been sunk in the caverns to provide access to lower level caves.

The compromise bill also includes $202,700 for trout production at the Norfolk, Ark., Hatchery and $50,000 for additional work on the water gardens at Greers Ferry Reservoir.

Federal Grant of $200,000 to City of Hope

The Economic Development Administration has approved a $200,000 grant to the City of Hope to provide water and sewer lines and access roads to the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation between old Highway 67 and the MOP Railway west.

The announcement was made known here by Senators Bill Fulbright and John L. McClellan in a telegram to the Star.

The City will match the federal money, thus the overall cost of the project will be $400,000. The project will provide 15,000 feet of 12-inch water lines to the two industrial and will assist in the improvement of a road extending from an intersection in Hope proper to the area. All of the grant will serve the industrial site and the Red River Vocational Tech School now under construction.

The city filed the application about three months ago.

Juveniles in Watts Back at Rock Tossing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Groups of rock throwing juveniles wandered through uneasy South Los Angeles Negro community Thursday night as residents awaited the outcome of an inquest into the death of a Negro motorist shot by a police man.

Police said apparently only one man, a white newspaper vendor, was injured Thursday night. They identified him as Edward Neeley, who said he was beaten by a gang of Negroes and shot at as he fled.

Police said they could not confirm any shot had been fired and added Neeley apparently left the area after getting first-aid treatment.

The incident occurred shortly after police broke up a gathering of 150 juveniles, reported throwing rocks at cars in the heart of Watts, where rioting last August took 34 lives.

Police said the crowd gathered along 103rd Street shortly after a brief demonstration in a nearby park, where about 80 persons gathered to protest the death of Leonard Deadwyler, 25. He was shot May 7 as he was driving his pregnant wife to a hospital.

Cruelty Again Laid to U. S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev charged the United States today with "beating all records of cruelty and cynicism" in the Viet-Nam war.

Speaking in Vladivostok, Brezhnev said the Soviet Union and other Communist countries "do not limit themselves only to moral support of Viet Nam."

"Our aid has concrete character," he declared.

"Let the American imperialists know that by escalating the aggression in Viet Nam they will meet ever increasing displays of the solidarity of the Socialist countries."

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin ended an eight-day visit to the United Arab Republic and flew home to Moscow after joining in a call with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser for the United States to stop bombing North Viet Nam.

NEWSMEN CLOBBEED—Police help Karl Fleming, 38, Los Angeles bureau chief for Newsweek magazine, onto a stretcher after he and another bureau staffer were beaten during a rampage of young Negroes through a liquor store in South Los Angeles.

Theme of Soil Stewardship Week 'Crisis'

Crisis in the Countryside theme of soil stewardship week 1966 — Each spring, thousands of clergymen and their congregations in the 3,000 conservation districts throughout the country observe Soil Stewardship Week as a time for special attention to the moral obligations and responsibilities of all of us should accept for the conservation of natural resources. An increasing number of farm, civic, and other organizations are including time in their programs for recognition of these responsibilities.

An advisory committee composed of leading clergymen representing several church denominations each year meets with the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts to select a timely theme for the annual observance. Each theme, enlarged in booklet form, is designed to emphasize that the basic motivation for conservation and orderly development of natural resources is man's recognition of this responsibility under God to protect and use wisely His precious gifts of soil and water.

The material that follows is excerpted from the booklet entitled "Crisis in the Countryside," which was developed by this advisory committee and distributed by NACD for use during 1966 Soil stewardship week May 15-22. We believe the theme is particularly timely because it focuses attention on current forces and trends which can have a lasting influence, for good or bad, on that vast part of America lying between its cities.

— Gordon K. Zimmerman, is executive secretary, NACD.

The Hempstead County Board of Supervisors have a supply of these booklets. Any clergyman who would like one of the booklets, please call at the local Soil Conservation Service office.

University to Get New Library

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Warrior Construction Co. of Houston, Tex., submitted an apparent low bid of $2,713,000 Thursday on construction of a four-story library for the University of Arkansas.

The library, which will house about 850,000 volumes, will have 150,000 square feet of floor space. One floor will be underground.

Bodcaw Church Plans Revival

The Bodcaw Baptist Church, Bodcaw, announces revival services May 23 through May 28, with two services daily 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Arlis Downs of First Baptist Church, Rosston, will be the evangelist. Rev. Gordon Renshaw of Unity Baptist Church, Hope, will direct the music. Rev. Lynn Green is pastor of the church.

Would Make Insurance Firms Pay Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The only way to solve the public's problems with the insurance industry is to require companies to put up more money before they are licensed, a state legislator said Thursday.

Rep. Marcus J. Howell of Phillips County, who is an insurance agent, spoke before the Legislative Council's Committee on Corporations, Insurance and Banking.

"The basic thing wrong," Howell said, "is that some companies are built on policyholders' money."

Glyn E. Sawyer, Insurance Department general counsel, said a much higher capitalization than the "unrealistic" $10,000 set by law is needed.

Increasing the capitalization requirements, Sawyer said, could assure the public of more stable insurance companies.

The committee, which is studying abuses in health and accident policies, broadened the study to cover sales of investment or fund type policies and share-the-profit insurance policies now being issued by some companies.

State Insurance Commissioner Harvey Combs reported to the committee on his department's work in the past 60 days in requiring a few companies to expedite the settlement of claims.

Obsession With Sex, Says Graham

NEW YORK (AP) — People in the United States and Britain have "an obsession with sex," says evangelist Billy Graham.

"We must re-establish moral guidelines and tell people what's right and what's wrong. They really don't know," he added Wednesday in an interview aboard the liner Queen Mary before sailing to preach in London from June 1 through July 2.

Some 3,168 Residents of County Received $172,788 in SS Benefits Last Year

Three-thousand, one hundred and sixty-eight people in Hempstead County received a total of $172,788.00 in social security benefits in 1965, Otis A. Blackwood, social security district manager in Texarkana, revealed today, an increase of $21,453, and 146 people over the year before.

A large part of the increase in payments resulted from changes made by the social security amendments of 1965, Mr. Blackwood said. Those changes which were in addition to the new program of health insurance for the aged, included a 7 per cent increase in monthly benefits retroactive to January 1965; benefits for widows as early as 60; benefits for full-time students between 18 and 22; benefits for some divorced women; benefits for some people over 72 who hadn't worked long enough to get social security before; and the payment of disability insurance benefits to workers who are unable to work because of a disability that lasts 12 months or more.

In addition to the people who began getting benefits in 1965 because of these changes, a good many older people who, upon applying for medicare, found they were eligible for regular social security benefits, too. All in all, the 1965 figures for Hempstead County include 1,537 retired workers and 149 disabled workers. The average monthly social security benefit for Hempstead County beneficiaries amounted to $14,399.00 in 1965.

Dixon Is Speaker at Shrine Club

Potentate Paul H. Dixon of the Scimitar Shrine was the guest speaker at the Millwood Shrine Club Ladies Night Thursday, May 19 in the Town and Country. Introduced by Frank A. Smith, the liaison officer for the local club, the Potentate spoke of Shrinism, its meaning and purpose. He also called attention to many approaching events at the Scimitar Temple in Little Rock and urged as many as possible to attend them.

Millwood Club President Hobart Shirley welcomed the group of 60 which included Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Smith, other guests, and representatives from many of the communities in the Millwood Shrine Club area. Dinner was served buffet style in the private dining room.

British Open Tallest Building

LONDON (AP) — Britain's tallest building, a 582-foot circular postoffice tower with a revolving restaurant on top, opened to the public today.

The building is the main link in a countrywide network of microwave towers providing telephone circuits and television channels. The tower is expected to become a big tourist draw also.

A Chimp Kidney Transplant Works

ROME (AP) — A kidney transplanted from a chimpanzee to a critically ill youth is working "admirably" 11 days after the operation, the doctor on the case says.

Prof. Paride Stefanini said Wednesday night it was impossible to say whether the 19-year-old patient would survive but results so far warrant "prudent optimism" over such transplants in the future.

Stefanini told a news conference he was forced to use an animal kidney for the transplant because the patient's condition was too critical to wait for the right kind of kidney from a dead person. Italian law prohibits transplants from live persons.

Operation Successful, Patient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Doctors said today that Walter L. McCans' rested heart is functioning well although he has undergone surgery twice in two days for removal of chest fluid.

Surgeons removed an artificial heart pump from McCans' chest Wednesday after it had aided his damaged heart for 27 hours.

A decision to remove the plastic device was made, they said, because the natural heart had improved enough to resume its normal function without mechanical assistance.

Thursday's final Methodist Hospital advisory said, however, doctors were continuing efforts to halt a bleeding tendency in the chest.

Anti-American Cards Revived by Buddhists

By EDWIN G. WHITE

SAIGON (AP) — Buddhists revived anti-American slogans in a Saigon riot tonight and monks tried to pressure U.S. Marines to intervene against government troops in Da Nang, where rebel and loyal forces again skirmished inconclusively.

The crisis has built up over an election issue threatening to stall military action in the war against the Viet Cong and bring a possible reappraisal of the American commitment in Viet Nam. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky says he expects to hold power at least another year; his critics want a quicker restoration of civilian rule.

SAGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fighting broke out again today in battle scarred Da Nang with Buddhist rebels showing no signs of capitulating to the tanks and troops sent against them by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Shooting erupted for the second successive day in Da Nang in the market place and in a nearby park where Buddhist-led students began the clamor for a civilian government in March. There was lighter firing also around the complex of three Buddhist pagodas where many of the dissidents were penned in by Ky's paratroopers and Marines.

Ky's forces still made no move to take the pagodas, and the government's strategy appeared to be to bottle the rebels up in their head quarters and wait for them to give in.

On the war front, the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry battled Viet Cong main force units in tall mountain grass near An Khe, 250 miles northeast of Saigon, for the fifth day. An American spokesman said the helicopter-borne Americans had killed at least 88 Viet Cong so far, captured 4 and seized 17 weapons. Casualties among the three battalions of cavalrymen pitted against the 350, or more Reds were described as light to moderate.

Registration Deadline Is July 5

More than 7,000 persons have registered as voters in Hempstead County to date. July 5th will be the last day for those who haven't already registered to register in time for the July 26th primary and July 19th will be the last day to register for the August 9th primary.

The Permanent Voter Registration Amendment requires County Clerks to cut off registration 20 days before each election. Persons may continue to register after cutoff dates but are not eligible to vote in a primary or election that is less than 20 days away.

A person may register at the Courthouse in the County Clerk office between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Saturdays.

Persons who have moved to the County since registering should notify the County Clerk office by mail or by reporting in person to have the address and voting precinct changed on registration records. Changes cannot be made by telephone. If this is not done prior to the election, it will be necessary to return to the voting precinct where the voter registered originally in order to vote.

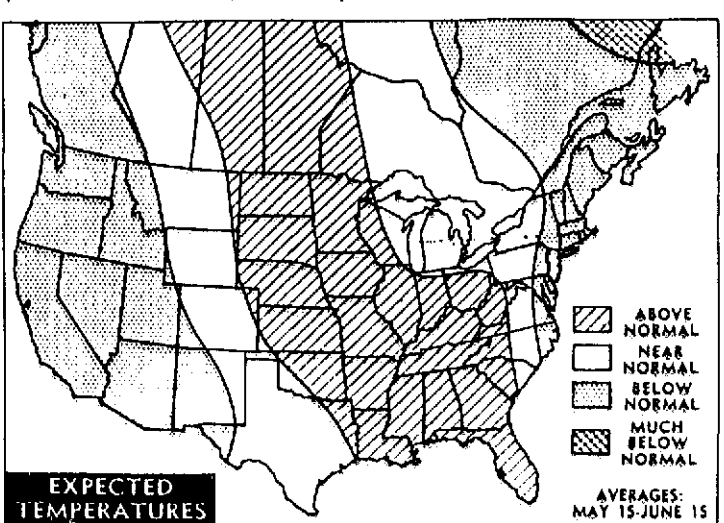

If there are persons in the County who are incapacitated and unable to get to the Courthouse, if they get in touch with the County Clerk's office a registrar will call at their home and register them there. Only persons who are physically unable to get to the Courthouse may be registered in their home.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Actress Ann Southern has been charged with a traffic violation in a two-car accident a few blocks from the Coconut Grove Playhouse, where she is appearing in a play.

Police said no one was seriously hurt.

She was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way and smashed her auto broadside into another, patrolman Larry Glover said.

After the accident Wednesday night Miss Southern went on stage to appear in "The Glass Menagerie."

Takes Line From Dante's Inferno

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — Hand-painted signs were spotted nailed to the bottom of two city limit markers at each end of this New Mexico college town recently.

The signs read: "Canto III, Line 9, Dante's Inferno."

Interested persons who checked the reference to the Italian writer's allegorical poem about a trip into Hades found that the line says:

"Bid hope farewell all ye who enter here."

THE VAGUE ILLNESS OF "JUST NERVES"

By Dr. Charles Johnson

Many are told when they visit their doctor and explain their "real symptoms", the symptoms they are told are caused by nerves playing tricks on them and they need not worry. A Texarkana housewife, past 40, came to the Johnson Clinic with complaints many and varied, she too had been diagnosed as "Just Nerves" but the trouble continued and increased until chiropractic adjustments removed the nerve pressure at the base of her brain. Now she no longer is just a "Case of Nerves." Presented as a public service by Johnson Chiropractic Clinic, 901 South Main Street, Hope Ark. Phone PR 7-5353

Chicago Edged by Twins and Indians Lose

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mike McCormick has turned from thrower to pitcher. And during the transition, he became a hitter as well.

McCormick, the onetime bonus baby who appeared to be washed up at 23, continued his comeback with a four-hitter Thursday night as Washington whipped Cleveland for the second straight night, 7-2.

The 27-year-old left-hander evened his record at 3-3 and heaped himself with a long home run during a three-run Senator rally in the fifth inning. It was McCormick's fifth hit in 14 swings this season and that's two more safeties than he managed in 41 at bats last year.

Ed Brinkman and Dick Nen also homered for Washington. Brinkman's shot preceded McCormick's in the fifth. Louis Tiant, 3-2, was the victim of the long ball display.

McCormick, who signed for $50,000 with the New York Giants 11 years ago, won the National League's earned run average title in 1960 before arm trouble caught up with him.

Elsewhere, in the American League, Minnesota ripped Chicago 4-3 in 10 innings with charges of beanballs exchanged by both sides, and Boston downed Baltimore 3-1.

Chicago whipped Houston 7-1. St. Louis blanked Philadelphia 2-0 and Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 4-0.

Tony Oliva's 10th inning double drove home Minnesota's winning run as the Twins won their fifth straight. Jimmie Hall had tied the game for Minnesota with a ninth inning homer.

The beanball accusations grew out of a third inning exchange of hit batsmen. After Chicago's J.C. Martin had homered in the top of the third, Al Weis was it in the back by a Jim Perry pitch.

Then Perry, leading off in the bottom of the third, was hit just above the elbow on his right pitching arm by one Buzhardt. "Buzhardt definitely was throwing at Perry and I say he was under orders to do it," said Minnesota Manager Sam Mele. Eddie Stanky, manager of the White Sox, answered:

"I have never told a pitcher to throw at a hitter in my life before a ball game. But when my hitter gets hit on the uniform number, and he's hitting .120 . . .

"I'm not accusing Perry of hitting Weis, you understand," reasoned Stanky. "I wouldn't do that. I'm not that kind of man. But my bench got upset."

There were no further incidents after the third inning exchange.

Boston's Jim Lonborg pitched 6 2/3 innings of strong relief as the Red Sox beat the Orioles for the second straight night.

Lonborg pitched out of a bases-loaded jam by getting Dave Johnson on a double play ball in the first. He pitched hitless ball until the sixth when Baltimore again loaded the bases on two hits and a walk but Lonborg got Johnson on a fly ball, ending the threat.

Ball Player and Mother Reunited

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Ed Kirkpatrick, 21, an outfielder for the California Angels of the American League, wasn't aware until two weeks ago that his mother was alive.

They've been reunited after 19 years. And his mother and his stepfather were in box seats near the Angels' dugout at Wednesday night's game in Kansas City with the Athletics.

Kirkpatrick's mother is now Mrs. Lowell Williamson of Williamson, Iowa. The ballplayer's parents were divorced when he was 2 years old.

Kirkpatrick's reunion with his mother came about in Kansas City Monday because a sister of his mother followed a hunch that the ballplaying Ed Kirkpatrick she heard about might be her nephew. She phoned him.

When Kirkpatrick was a child he lived with his paternal grandparents in Iowa. Later he joined his father, Wayne, who never remarried, and they settled in Southern California.

Kirkpatrick explained the long separation from his mother:

"I hadn't seen my mother and I hadn't heard about her, so I didn't know she was alive. Nobody mentioned my mother, and I didn't ask."

Weather Is Big Worry for Fighters

NEW YORK (AP)—When the New York Mets get rained out of a baseball game at Shea Stadium they schedule a double-header.

A double headache, though, is what inclement weather has been giving promoters of Saturday night's light-heavyweight title fight in the Mets' park between champion Jose Torres and Californian Wayne Thornton.

"The cold and now the rain have held up the sale," admitted Al Bolan, a promoter.

New York had its heaviest rain in seven years Thursday. This diminished to sporadic showers towards evening and the forecast for Friday and Saturday was for fair and seasonal weather.

Bolan saw a silver lining, predicting a crowd of 20,000 and gate receipts totaling $200,000 for New York's first outdoor bout since Floyd Patterson stopped Ingemar Johansson in the Polo Grounds on June 20, 1960.

Torres has been guaranteed $75,000 for the first defense of his 175-pound crown. Thornton will get $25,000 for the bout, which will be nationally televised except in New York.

Torres finished his training by boxing four rounds against two sparring partners Thursday. He said "I feel 100 per cent. I expect a rough, tough fight from Thornton but that's the kind of a fight I have trained for."

The Puerto Rican titleholder, a 7-5 favorite, said he was free from the after-effects of the pancreas trouble that sidelined him for the last nine months.

"Torres could go 100 rounds a day in the gym and it wouldn't do him as much good as one hard fight — which he's going to get," Thornton said after winding up training at Kiamasha Lake, N.Y.

SWITCHES LEAGUES

Place-kicking ace Pete Gogolak is switching to the New York Giants of the National Football League after playing out his contract with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League. He signed as a free agent for no bonus but reportedly a hefty salary.

Pro Football Loops on Eve of Big War

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National and American Football Leagues appeared to be on the threshold of a full-scale contract war today after the New York Giants charged that NFL teams had made overtures to four of their players.

Wellington Mara, president of the NFL's Giants, said Thursday that fullback Tucker Fredrickson had been approached by the AFL's Houston Oilers and three other players — center Greg Larson, halfback Steve Turlow and receiver Bobby Crespino — had been contacted by the San Diego Chargers.

The so-called raid attempt was seen as a retaliatory measure by the AFL for the signings of kicker Pete Gogolak by the Giants. Gogolak played out his option with the AFL's Buffalo Bills because a free agent May 1 and signed with the Giants Tuesday.

According to Mara, the four members of the Giants were contacted Tuesday night, just hours after the Gogolak signing. At the time it was predicted that the Gogolak shift might trigger retaliatory measures by the AFL and set off a wholesale contract war.

Two other developments on the same front bolstered the opinion that the retaliatory measures would not only be aimed at the Giants but at other NFL clubs as well.

Ralph Wilson, owner of the Bills and president of the AFL, said the signing of Gogolak "was a direct provocation against the Bills and the AFL. In due course the Bills may attempt to sign players from the other league, particularly the Giants."

Wilson said, "We would like to see Gogolak's contract, as far as the Giants are concerned, rescinded." But he said the AFL had not formulated any plan because that would be up to Al Davis, the new commissioner of the AFL.

However, Dave Diles of station XYZQ in Detroit said he had learned that AFL owners had agreed unanimously on "raiding THE NFL of star players."

He said one of the major targets was the Detroit Lions and that three players — tackle Alex Karras, linebacker Wayne Walker and receiver Gail Cogdill — already had been contacted.

New Player Wins Game for Travelers

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Dick Hughes, a native of Stephens, Ark., began his stint as an Arkansas Traveler Thursday night by earning a pitching victory. Arkansas won 9-5 as Felix Roque and Chuck Taylor protected Hughes' lead in the late innings.

Hughes, a former University of Arkansas player, pitched five innings in his first Arkansas start since being sent from Tulsa, St. Louis' AAA farm club.

Arkansas combined three hits and an error for four runs in the second inning and for more hits, including two homers, for three in the third.

Koufax Beats Giants, First Time This Year

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax has a great left arm, but he also has a good pair of feet going for him.

Koufax pitched a three-hitter and gained his first shutout and sixth victory of the season Thursday night as Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 4-0.

While Koufax' arm baffled the Giant hitters, though, the feet dazzled the Giant fielders.

The feet, plus the rest of Maury Wills, beat out two infield singles, stole two bases and scored the first two Dodger runs.

Wills, who has won a record six straight National League base-stealing titles, now leads the league with 16 thefts — and 12 have come in games which have scored 18 runs over-all, half in support of Koufax.

The game against the Giants was typical.

The 33-year-old shortstop led off the first inning by beating out a grounder to second base for a single. He promptly stole second, moved to third on a ground out and scored as Willie Davis singled.

In the third inning, he again led off with an infield single, this time beating out a high bounce to the mound. Again he stole second, and this time he scampered home on Jim Gilliam's single.

Koufax, meanwhile, was headed for his shutout, walking only two, striking out 10 and allowing just two Giants to reach second base. He also reduced his earned run average to 1.83 and recorded his sixth victory three days ahead of last season. He has lost only once.

In other National League games, St. Louis blanked Philadelphia 2-0 and Chicago whipped Houston 1-7. Rain washed out Cincinnati at New York.

In the American League, Washington stopped Cleveland 7-2. Boston trimmed Baltimore 3-1 and Minnesota nipped Chicago 4-3 in 10 innings.

The Dodgers completed their scoring with a run in the fourth inning on errors by Tito Fuentes and Cap Peterson plus Jeff Torborg's single and in the eighth on Wes Parker's homer.

St. Louis' Al Jackson limited Philadelphia to four hits until the ninth when he was pulled after walking leadoff batter John Callison on four pitches.

He still extended his scoreless inning string to 21. Charlie Smith supported Jackson with three hits, including a seventh-inning homer.

Rookie Randy Hundley sparked the Cubs past Houston, driving in three runs with a double and a triple and stealing home. His two-run triple and steal of home highlighted a five-run third inning which enabled Chicago to stop a six-game losing streak.

Qualifying Runs Saturday at Indianapolis

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Thirty or more 10-mile qualifying runs probably will be made Saturday or Sunday in attempts to win the last 10 open spots in the 33-car line-up for the Golden Anniversary 500-mile auto race May 30.

None of the unqualified drivers have shown any threats to the qualifying average of 165.899 m.p.h. made last Saturday by Italian-born Mario Andretti.

Most of them would be satisfied with a strong 158.

All but three of last weekend's 23 qualifiers bettered 159, but only a few of the unqualified have been in that bracket. They include rookie Carl Williams of Kansas City, who was running better than 160 before he crashed Saturday in missing an out-of-control car. He was practicing at nearly 159 Thursday in the repaired Dayton Gerhardt-Ford.

Other likely qualifiers include Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N. M., in a Hufaker-Offenhufer; his brother, Al, in a Lotus-Ford; Cale Harbrough, Charlotte, S.C., in a Vollstedt-Ford; Bud Tingstad, Hawthorne, Calif., in a Gerhardt-Ford; Arnie Knepper, Belleville, Ill., in a Cecil-Ford; Sammy Sessions, Nashville, Mich., Ward-Offy; Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, Watson Turbo-charged Offy and Bobby Johns, Miami, Fla., in a BRM-Ford.

Other strong runs are expected from Eddie Johnson, Richmond Heights, Ohio, shooting for his 15th straight start in a Hufaker-Offy; Al Miller, Roseville, Mich., Lotus-Ford; Bob Wente, St. Louis, Gerhardt-Offy; Dick Atkins, Hayward, Calif., Shrike Offy, and Bob Harkey, Indianapolis, Gerhardt, Offy.

After 33 qualifying runs have been completed, a driver can still put a car in the line-up by exceeding the speed of the slowest earlier qualifier, who then is dropped out or bumped.

Slowest of last weekend's qualifiers were three rookies, Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif., 158.688; Mel Kenyon, Davenport, Iowa, 158.555, and Art Pollard Medford, Ore., 157.985.

The trials will run from 11 a.m., EST, to 6 p.m. Saturday and noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Local Piano Pupils

Piano pupils of Mrs. Neva Carmichael played earlier this week in the National Guild of Auditions at Texarkana. This was the first time for the following pupils: Normac Jean Smith, Harold Phillips, Linda Greenhouse and Harrett Hickles.

These pupils were in their second performance: Mercedes Smith, Aquanetta Smith, Brenda Milus, who were auditioned in Malvern last spring. All received very high ratings, from fair to excellent. All received certificates and the National Pins from the National Guild of Students Musicians.

Annual Dress Reveal

Lincoln High School Chapter of the Future Home Makers of America Presented their annual affairs, Wednesday night May 18 too a large group of parents, friends, and students. The Theme: "Fashion House of America" was beautifully carried out. The background was very attractive.

The clothing class II - III team made a total of 50 dresses on the Title I program. These dresses were modeled by kids from the 1st through 9th grade. A grand total of 87 dresses have been constructed this year. Mrs. Ida Mae Gilliam, was a again crowned as the F. H. A. mother of the year by Prin. Dr. L. W. Williamson.

Miss Carol Gilliam, our narrator for the evening presented to our advisor Mrs. G. B. W. Golston a beautiful pearl chain necklace as an appreciation of the chapter for her untiring and devoted service, as well as work so effectively carried out. We again want to express our appreciation to all the mothers for their financial and co-operative service. Our delegates to attend the Leadership Workshop which will convene at Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia are: Alma Johnson, Shirley Perkins, Arletha Terrel, and Earlene Cheatham. Miss Cheatham will serve as Recorder for Group III - C, and our advisor Mrs. Golston will serve as one of the Consultants.

Safety Issue Cut Sales, Ford Claims

By CHARLES C. CAIN

AP Business News Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. officials say the hotly debated issue of automobile safety cut sharply into sales this spring.

"Although we do not have final reports for the second 10 days of May, it appears sales are continuing at a lower rate for the industry," company President Arjay Miller said at the stockholders' annual meeting.

An announcement by Henry Ford II, board chairman, that the company's earnings this year probably would not be as high as in 1965 sent stock prices tumbling in late trading on the New York Stock Exchange Thursday.

Ford charged that publicity on the safety issue touched off by auto critic Ralph Nader also had hurt the cause of traffic safety. He told newsmen after the meeting still considered Nader's charges that the industry has lagged in safety as irresponsible.

He announced the company has trimmed its building program through next year by 10 per cent or about $130 million. He said this was a response to President Johnson's plea to businessmen to curtail capital expenditures to help the economy.

Secretaries Differ, Both Clobbered

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The way the two secretaries of state handled their job was completely different but both got clobbered: the colorful actor, John Foster Dulles, and the quiet technician, Dean Rusk.

Criticism just took longer catching up with Rusk. If the Vietnamese war ends in American disaster, Rusk may wind up being the punching bag, a typical fate for someone when a nation feels frustrated. Dulles was foreign policy during most of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's two terms. He was flamboyant, used exaggerated language to make a point, was go-go-go, and until his death in 1959 talked with full authority.

Eisenhower liked it that way. There was a big switch under President John F. Kennedy who made it clear from the start he was foreign policy and would shape it and state it. Rusk was his adviser and foreign policy technician.

This seemed to suit the reticent Rusk. While Dulles had been lambasted endlessly for statements he made, there was hardly an unkind word for Rusk in Kennedy's time. He preferred being an echo, not a spokesman.

The result: he seldom said anything new, leaving that to Kennedy. And when he did talk in speeches or at news conferences his words were big bunches of generalities that actually put some people to sleep.

It might have been like that to this day for Rusk, a tireless and dedicated worker behind the scenes but publicly colorless, if there hadn't been a change in presidents and circumstances.

President Johnson, expressing the highest confidence in Rusk, has used him far more than Kennedy did to state the administration's positions, policies and dilemmas. But the smoldering Vietnamese war burst into flames under Johnson.

As the war goes on — grim, often stumbling, repeatedly chaotic, with criticism here at home increasing — the public gets more puzzled, a problem Johnson might have tried to straighten out in a very simple way.

He could have gone on nationwide television to give the people a full-length explanation and at the same time answer the critics. Instead, he has simply mentioned the war in a number

Obituaries

C. A. Fuller

C. A. Fuller, 75, longtime resident of this area, died Thursday night in a local hospital. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Fuller, three daughters, Mrs. J. P. Martin of Bossier City, La., Mrs. Alvis Petty of Arlington, Texas, Mrs. Louise Wray of Louisville, Ky.

Also surviving are a brother, Grady Fuller of El Dorado; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Stephens of Minden, La., Mrs. Bertha Goyne of Baton Rouge.

Services will be at 2 p.m. on Saturday at Unity Baptist Church of Hope by the Rev. W. E. Thomason and the Rev. Gordon Renshaw. Burial by Smith of Stamps and Oakcrest of Hope will be in Memory Gardens.

Joseph J. Points

Joseph J. Points, 86, retired construction worker of Washington, Ark., died Thursday in a Texarkana hospital. He was a member of the Bethel Methodist Church of North Little Rock. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Jane Ross Points; two daughters, Mrs. Louise Thames of Fort Smith, Mrs. Marie Brown of Baton Rouge.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday at East Memorial Chapel, Texarkana, by the Rev. D. G. Harper. Burial will be in Red Lick Cemetery.

of unconnected speeches. They gave neither a full nor a coherent picture and the President has relied much on Rusk to do the explaining for him, particularly in testimony before congressional committees.

But Rusk's efforts were forever getting scrambled by congressional questions and rebuttals. So to this day the administration has not given the kind of coherent explanation which might be a useful public service.

While Rusk is saying more than he did under Kennedy, he still gives the picture of being a foreign policy technician and adviser, which means, despite his dedication, he has not been a forceful figure.

Nevertheless, Rusk is being criticized a bit at a time as the Vietnamese war gets more confusing, although no one outside the Johnson administration can say very well how much of Rusk's advice Johnson has accepted.

But if the American effort in Viet Nam collapses because of the internal chaos there, the search for scapegoats will begin here. Johnson will get blamed, of course, but he's been elected to a four-year term.

But his advisers will get blamed, too. And, since Rusk is in the role of the No. 1 adviser, he may get more than his share and wind up the No. 1 casualty, although he seems to have made few if any personal enemies.

Beef Best Bet at the Markets

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — After months of soaring prices, production is up and beef is back on special at many of the nation's food markets.

A major New York area supermarket chain has cut sirloin steaks 4 cents a pound and also is offering specials on roasts.

Beef rib, rump, chuck and sirloin roasts and steaks also are being featured in the Midwest. Prices of choice grade steer cuts are slightly lower on the West Coast.

Pork prices, however, appear headed up again. Increased supplies of cattle are reaching the market and beef supplies the next few months are expected to be moderately larger than last year. Pork production, however, has dropped slightly. It is expected to run about 5 per cent less than a year ago, making it likely retail prices will be higher the next two months.

California packers have canned about 5 per cent more tuna than last year, after a slow start. The Gulf oyster pack is picking up, but still down 42 per cent from 1965.

Egg prices are dropping in the Midwest, Southwest and West coast. Production has been heavy.

Soft-drink prices may be higher this summer. Some bottlers already have raised their whole-sale prices in the Chicago, Dallas, Baltimore, Pennsylvania, northern Virginia and western Maryland.

The wheater is having its effect on prices, too. Rain in the Midwest has held up corn planting and damaged snap beans and tomatoes in Texas and Arkansas.

Last year's drought is showing up on Maine's blueberries. And the May freeze damaged tomatoes in Maryland, New Jersey and the Ohio Valley and strawberries in Tennessee.

But strawberries are coming along fine in California, and the crops in Oregon and Washington are expected to be up a whopping 33 per cent.

Peas have been hard hit by the weather. Some peas headed for canning in northeastern Oregon had to be plowed under after a bad freeze last month.

Opening lead—A Q.

There are situations in bridge that really call for cliches.

Hard Luck Joe had just gone down at another game contract and was moaning: "Against anyone else they play like human beings. Against me they are clairvoyant!"

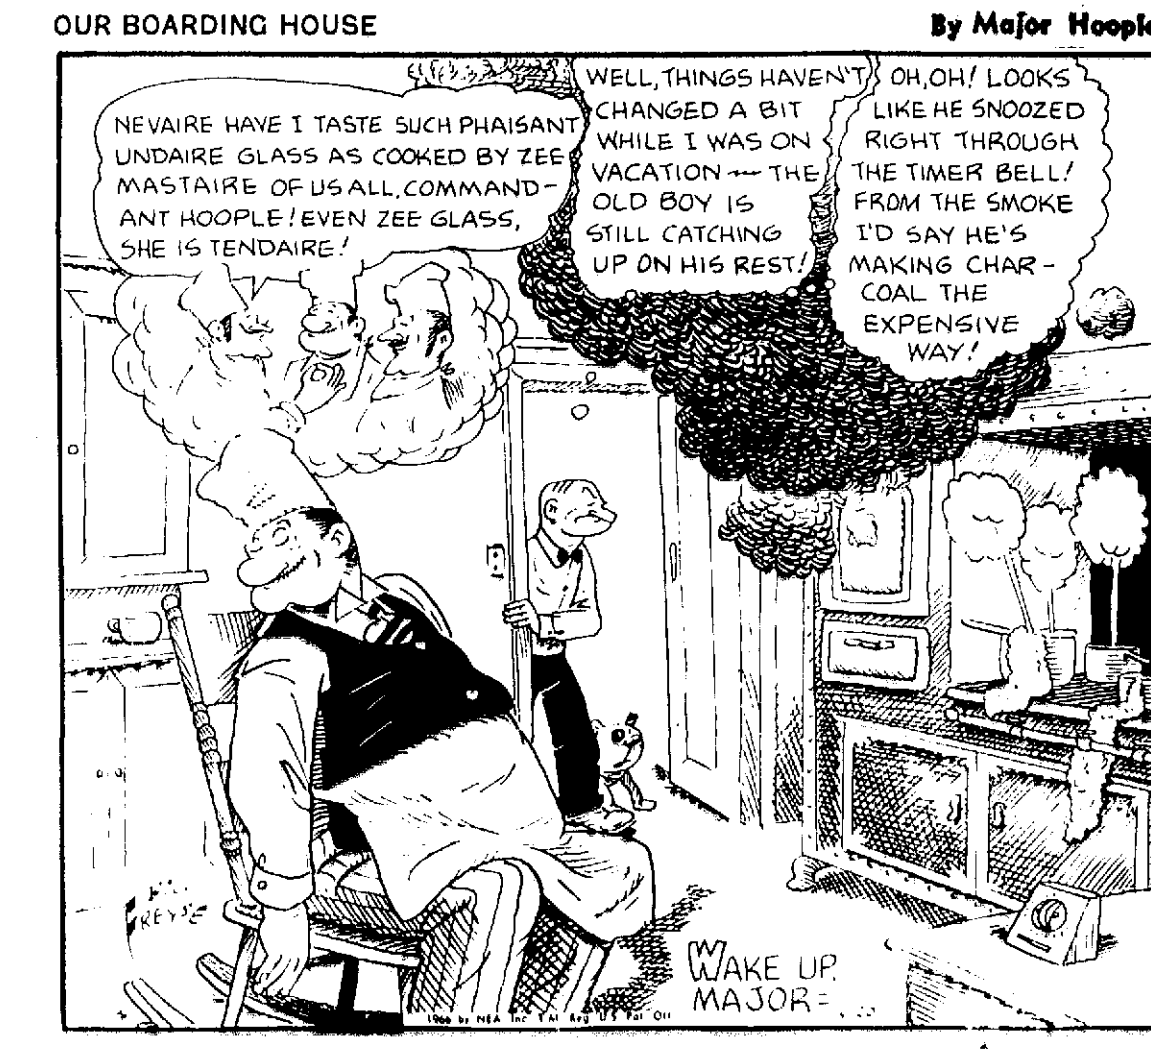

East had won the opening lead with the ace of clubs and returned the deuce of hearts. Joe had played the three and West's eight had forced dummy's king. Later East had obtained the lead with the king of diamonds and established a heart trick for himself before Joe had a chance to set up some diamond discards.

East deserves a great deal of credit for finding the deuce of hearts lead at trick two. A lot of credit but not the sort of play that an expert should overlook. East was looking at that diamond holding in dummy and could visualize that South would be able to set up a diamond for a discard in two leads. Hence it was up to East to set up a heart trick for himself if he wanted to beat the four spade contract.

So Joe was unlucky enough to be playing against an East who was smart enough to find the heart return but Joe was solely responsible for the failure to make his contract and end the rubber.

To use an old cliché, there is no reason to send a boy on a man's errand.

Joe held the ten of hearts and he should have played it on East's deuce. The ten spot wasn't going to do Joe any good if left in his hand and, as it turned out, it would have held the trick if Joe had been willing to part with it.

Population Over Production

ROME (AP) — World food production did not keep pace with the 2 per cent population growth last year and the prospects for this year are no better, the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization said today.

The organization's annual commodity report said production of wheat and rice were down and there was only a slight increase in coarse grains.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

PARIS (AP) — Peter O'Toole had a coughing spell as he entered a small cafe just a cobbler's throw from the Palace of Versailles. A glass of beer solved his trouble.

"Caught cold shooting here yesterday," he explained. "The scene was supposed to be on a balmy summer evening, and it was bitter cold and raining."

O'Toole was shooting location scenes for his sixth starring film, in which he plays a fanatical Nazi officer during the French occupation. He has returned to his light-blond hair — with a Germanized crewcut — and to his producer, Sam Spiegel.

The Irish actor winced when he thought of his salary. Spiegel prudently signed him for other films before handing him the plum role of Lawrence of Arabia.

"It is a bit hard to be working for a pittance," said O'Toole. "and I've raised a little fuss, like asking for trailer dressing rooms and all that."

"But really, I suppose I can't complain. After all, Sam handed me the best break in films — ever. I mean it was the very best."

But no actor ever worked harder for such a break — he endured two years and three months of filming in some of the hottest temperatures on earth.

He seems to have a knack for finding difficult pictures. "Lord Jim" was another punishing location, pitting him against the steaming jungles of Southeast Asia. In that case, the results were not so fortunate.

"Even 'What's New, Pussycat?' was a backbreaker," he recalled. "There was no script, and Peter Sellers and I winged it. Half the time we were writing our own lines a few hours before shooting; the author (Woody Allen) was pouting and wouldn't do it."

"Besides that, the women in the picture were all fighting among each other, and it was chaos, pure chaos."

"It's a miracle that the film came off at all. But it did, by heaven, and it's going to be the biggest moneymaking comedy in history."

None of O'Toole's films has been made in Hollywood. "They don't make my kind of film in Hollywood," he explained.

He prefers the working conditions in Europe. French studios begin the shooting day at 11 a.m. and continue with only an occasional wine break until early evening. The Hollywood method is to work from 9 to 6 with a one-hour lunch.

"I'm a liver, not just an actor. I like to go to the theater in the evening, or to get stoned. You can't do that on factory hours," he said.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH Why Is Your Child Having Her Teeth Straightened?

BY WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"When parents seek orthodontic treatment for their children, their motivation may be satisfaction of their own personal frustration rather than responding to the child's needs." So said Dr. D. C. Baldwin Jr., a Boston psychiatrist, in a paper read at the recent meeting of the International Association of Dental Research.

Dr. Baldwin classifies parents and their reasons as follows:

Some parents are motivated by health reasons and the prevention and correction of dental deformities in their children.

A small group accept orthodontic treatment for their children because of the advice of the family dentist.

A large group of parents are motivated because they have a need for achievement and feel that orthodontic bands on their children's teeth will help them in their upward social striving.

Some parents are motivated because of their own apparently insoluble family problems such as alcoholism, mental illness, loss or absence of marital partner or chronic ailments in another child. These parents try to straighten out their child's teeth rather than straighten out their own problems.

No mention is made of esthetics, but there must be a considerable group represented in this category. Mothers with spaces between their front teeth won't accept spaces in their daughter's teeth even though fathers who must pay the orthodontic bill say, "I don't see anything wrong with spaces between teeth. I fell in love with mother, spaces and all."

No matter which class claims you, it's comforting to know that your child will benefit from orthodontic treatment... in a real sense.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Symbolic meaning of the flower iris is wisdom, faith, courage.

Says Police Added Insult to Injury

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)

—Richard R. Geyerman, 27, of Omaha, Neb., claimed police added injury to insult when they tagged him for jaywalking recently.

Geyerman said squad car officers gave him the ticket on a downtown street, then ran over his left big toe as they drove away.

He was treated at a hospital and released.

Cleanup Drive to Clean Treasury

CALAIS, Maine (AP) — The local Lions Club has launched a cleanup campaign that may well clean out its treasury.

President Leonard Scott said that as part of a beautification campaign, the club offered to pay one cent for each beer can collected along municipal highways by Friday.

But he said Wednesday some 9,500 cans already have been collected—and club members feared that the total may climb astronomically by the end of the week.

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Arcaro, one of the most famous jockeys in the history of horse racing and twice the winner of the Triple Crown, will be "most commentator" on CBS' coverage of the running of the Preakness on Saturday at Pimlico Race Course, Baltimore, Md.

Arcaro who raced more than 25,000 horses, including some 4,800 winners, during his career retired four years ago at 46. And covering what he calls "the color" of the race — the second lot of the three races for the crown, the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes — constitutes a bit of profitable moonlighting. He is the president of an insurance company with New York headquarters that specializes in livestock insurance, including horseflesh.

"But I wouldn't attempt to call the race," Arcaro said. "I couldn't because it requires very special skills."

"In the first place time is so short — a two-minute race is one of the longest — and you have to be able to identify all the horses in a field."

Arcaro said that Chris Schenkel on ABC's sports staff is one of broadcasting's great race callers.

He also confessed that, while he had booted a lot of them, he was a very poor picker of winners.

"I studied the chart and looked over the horses at a track recently — and picked eight straight losers," he said mournfully.

The former jockey gave much of the credit for his successful career to his agent — "the one that picked the horses for me to ride" — and the fact that he rode for two of the best racing outfits in the country, Warren Wright's Calumet Farms and the Whitney Greenree Stables.

Arcaro over 31 years won more than $30-million in purses with his mounts, and said he decided to retire because he felt he was "getting too old and too fat." He looks neither.
